

Andreas Schleicher: Use data to build better schools

How can we measure what makes a school system work? Andreas Schleicher walks us through the PISA test, a global measurement that ranks countries against one another -- then uses that same data to help schools improve. Watch to find out where your country stacks up, and learn the single factor that makes some systems outperform others.

http://www.ted.com/talks/andreas_schleicher_use_data_to_build_better_schools

https://www.ted.com/talks/andreas_schleicher_use_data_to_build_better_schools?utm_campaign=tedsread--a&utm_medium=referral&utm_source=tedcomshare